

PRESS RELEASE

EODH DYNAMIC PARTICIPATION IN IDEX 2019

FEBRUARY 2019

EODH SA – the Protection Experts participated with great success at IDEX 2019 in Abu Dhabi - one of the largest events of its kind in the world.

The next generation protection system ASPIS was one of the few innovations revealed during the show – just one of the reason for the major interest of the international decision makers in the defense world!

International Delegations guided by high level staff officers and international blue chips of the Defence Industry found their answers in the new holistic and modular protection system of EODH SA

ASPIS

(Advanced Shielding Platform Integrated System)

In cooperation with NEMS - the German Associate of the group and the specialized partner for the supply chain of strategic materials - EODH SA showcased a combination of multi layer active and passive armour solutions and just giving a good hint as to the capability of EODH in platform survivability, from the light vehicles to the MBT.

It includes complex anti-ballistic protection against the current and future threats of the battlefield, a decoupled floor and a modular vehicle structure with enhanced mine load distribution in the vehicle structure.

The special designed signature management and the new generation of anti-mine / anti-shock armor seats with an innovative mechanism that absorbs the shock from mine explosions and explosive devices.

All features are developed by the company and combine passive and active protection systems with early warning sensors, expendable countermeasures and electronic/electro-optic Systems under a single automated control.

The Team of EODH will now deal intensively with the industrial implementation of the shown interest and LOIs, signed by several customers and extending their global businesses.
